

ELFAST SCENE OF FATAL RIOTS

Police Officers Likewise Are Victims of Week-end Frays Between Sinn Feiners and Troops

REPORT MANY SLAIN

Shop Windows Are Battered Out and Buildings Are Fired by Mobs on Saturday Night

Belfast, Ireland, Nov. 7.—Wild scenes were witnessed in Londonderry today night as a sequel to a sudden attack on policemen there. Five officers were shot, two of them so badly that they are not expected to recover, two shops were burned to ground and several others were looted. All the property attacked belonged to Sinn Feiners.

The attack on policemen was directed against the officers who were guarding the customs house, and a brief exchange of shots followed. The fray occurred at 9 o'clock in the evening in a narrow street, and so terrified the crowd of shoppers that they fled in a panic. Afterward the military raided a large section of the city, holding up and searching everyone they found suspect and invading and searching numerous houses.

Increasing Revolver Fire.

Later in the evening a hostile crowd assembled in Waterloo square, a Sinn Fein stronghold and had to be dispersed by the military. Even after the dispersal there were almost uninterrupted revolver or rifle fire for two hours or more with occasional sounds of explosions of bombs.

A number of armed men passed along Williams street smashing shop windows with the butt ends of rifles, throwing the lamps on electric standards by rifle fire and plunging the dark street into darkness. Two premises were set on fire, one being a garage which was completely destroyed. A number of domestic animals were burned to death.

Many persons left their houses and left the night in distant parts of the city.

The policemen, who had been attacked, were found lying in Foyles street. It is not known how they received the bullet wounds from which they were suffering.

Fierce Rioting in Belfast.

Belfast, Ireland, Nov. 7.—Fierce rioting continued in Belfast today afternoon, the neighborhood involved being the network of streets between Clifton street and Old Lodge road, known as the Stanhope area. which has figured in every disturbance since July. Hundreds joined in the fray, the Unionists with stones, and the Sinn Feiners with revolvers and rifles.

A large body of police made repeated attempts to keep the factions separate until the arrival of the military in an armored car, when the rioters were once dispersed.

A laborer was shot dead in Cork by a military curfew patrol Saturday night. The soldier alleged that he disregarded orders to halt.

Mob Attacks Policemen.

Dublin, Ireland, Nov. 7.—An attack by a mob on two policemen Saturday night culminated in the shooting of two civilians, one of them seriously. The affair caused a great panic as crowds of people were just leaving the theatres. The policemen who fled from the mob fired their revolvers at their pursuers. One policeman was injured and thrown into the life-boat was rescued by other police.

Seven Volunteers Slain.

Dublin, Nov. 7.—Seven volunteers were reported to have been killed in a fight at the causeway, near Tralee, Friday. Seventy-four arrests were made in Cork during the curfew hours Saturday night.

MARCH IN PROTEST AGAINST DEATH OF MAYOR MACSWINEY

Washington, Nov. 7.—Hundreds of Irish sympathizers marched for an hour tonight in single file around the White House in protest of the recent death of Terrence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork. The demonstration was organized at a meeting of the local branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom earlier in the night and it was announced that it would be repeated each night for 73 days, once for each of the days MacSwiney fasted before his death.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, NOV. 7.—A special mass was celebrated here today in memory of the late lord mayor of Cork. In addition to the Irish colony, the members of various labor and religious societies and bodies of students attended the service.

OUTFLANK ARMENIANS

London, Nov. 7.—A dispatch to the London Times from Constantinople says the Nationalists outflanked the Armenians, who fell back on the coast of Kars, which was captured by the Turks.

The dispatch adds that Alexander-pol and the railway between Erivan and Tiflis are menaced and that the position of the Armenians is critical.

HOLD BOLSHIEVISTS AT BAY

General Wrangel Is Confident Enemy Cannot Penetrate His Crimean Peninsula Lines.

Paris, Nov. 7.—General Baron Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in the Crimea, is still holding the Isthmus of Perekop, the only means of ingress to the Crimean peninsula by land, and the military situation from his standpoint, is not hopeless, according to information which has reached the French foreign office in a report from M. DeMaret, the French high commissioner at Sebastopol.

General Wrangel, according to this report, is confident the Bolsheviki will be unable to break through his lines of defense at the Isthmus and invade the Crimea.

THREE ARMED MEN HOLDUP PAYMASTER

Pay Envelopes Containing $3,400 Are Taken at Hour When They Were to Have Been Given Out

New York, Nov. 7.—While 20 husky truck drivers waited in line to be paid off at the Kelly branch of the United States Trucking company, No.
281 North Seventh street, Brooklyn, about 6 o'clock Saturday night, three armed men burst into the office, covered the crowd with revolvers, and robbed the paymaster of $3,400 in pay envelopes.

Then the bandits backed out of the office, still holding the drop on the crowd, and made an easy escape in a taxicab that a fourth member of their gang had kept waiting with its motor running in front of the stables. They had so covered the victims of the hold-up that none of the 20 drivers attempted to pursue the robbers.

People in the street, however, had their attention attracted by the speed with which the taxicab sped from the neighborhood, and told the police it had turned the corner of Havemeyer street, 100 feet away, and gone south toward the Williamsburg bridge. The robbers evidently went to Manhattan.

The robbers were not masked, so the police got good descriptions of them. They were young, American born and poorly dressed.

Charles Seering, paymaster, was behind the paying window in the office at the front of the stables, and Theodore Daly, foreman, was keeping the men in line. Fifteen had already been paid off and had left the office.
Besides the 20 still in the office, other men were in the stables at the rear.

The robbers entered suddenly and immediately ordered everybody to hold up their hands. While two stayed by the door, the third robber walked behind the counter and scooped up the pay envelopes. Then the trio departed, threatening to shoot if any attempt was made to stop them or inform the police. The robbers did not stop to search any of the drivers for money or jewelry.

Deering went to the Bedford avenue station and informed the police. Captain Daniel Carey, in charge of detectives in Williamsburg, assigned detectives Miller and Mierau to the case.
They worked all night without success on a license number given them by a pedestrian who saw the taxi escape.

SPIRIT MINISTER AWAY FROM JAIL

Threats Against Clergyman, Also Prohibition Agent, Following Killing of Inn Keeper, Were Rife.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 7.—Following rumors of intended violence, police officers early today spirited Rev. J. O.
L. Sprackman, Methodist minister and prohibition enforcement agent, who had been held in jail here since yesterday morning in connection with the shooting to death of Beverly Trumbull, an inn keeper, to the jail at Sandwich, it became known tonight. The removal of the prisoner was effected quietly, and did not become known to others and officers until this evening.

The action is said to have followed telephone messages to the jail here that an attempt at violence was contemplated by certain friends of the slain man. Removal of Sprackman will not prevent resumption of the inquest, it was said, the minister having submitted his testimony last night.

Chatham, Ont., Nov. 7.—Rev. J. O.
L. Sprackman, prohibition enforcement agent, who shot and killed Beverly Trumbull in a raid on an inn near Windsor, was brought here today from the Sandwich jail, to which he was taken earlier in the day, following threats of violence of friends of the slain man. Sprackman arrived here in the custody of an officer. He was accompanied by his counsel, R. L.
Bracken, M. P.

ed a note to the powers in which it

DENIES CHARGES AGAINST HYLAN

Failure to Cancel Contracts on City Work, Pending Outcome of Building Probe, Is Denied

BACKER IS INDICTED

Millionaire Building Contractor Faces Charge of Perjury Growing Out of Lockwood Inquiry

New York, Nov. 7.—Denial of charges by Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the joint legislative committee investigating the alleged "building trust," in a letter to Comptroller Craig yesterday, that Mayor Hylan had failed to take action toward cancellation of school building contracts, was made by Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld in a statement tonight.

Mayor Hylan will be called before the committee when it resumes hearings next Thursday, it was indicated tonight when Mr. Untermyer declined to amplify the statements in his letter to the comptroller, threatening to call the mayor unless the contracts are cancelled.

All Contracts Considered.

Commissioner Hirschfeld declared that at the mayor's suggestion to aid the committee he had attended the hearings and has been "ready to assist it, if called upon." Immediately after the court house contracts were cancelled, he said, the mayor instructed him to take up not only the school house contracts, but all city contracts made within the last eighteen months or two years, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the city has been dishonestly dealt with in respect to all or some of these contracts.

George S. Backer, millionaire building contractor, of No. 137 Riverside Drive, Saturday was indicted by the additional grand jury on a charge of perjury, growing out of his testimony at the second hearing of the Lockwood legislative investigation. In this testimony he first swore that he had lost at the races $25,000 bribe money given him to raise a strike ordered by Robert P. Brindell and later he had given the money to two men he did not know and whom he found at the Hotel Chatham.

This first step to bring to the bar of justice men charged with criminal acts in connection with the stifling of building activities in New York was made while the committee, sitting in city hall, was hearing sensational testimony of how other thousands of dollars had been paid to Brindell that strikes might be avoided, and to further testimony showing how Henry Hanlein and the other members of the "charmed circle of nine" set in motion, under the direction of Lawyer John T. Hetrick, a most amazing plan to muzzle the city in the construction of the proposed court house.

Chief Features of Day.

Outside the indictment of Backer, the chief features of the day were:
Testimony by five reputable business men that they had been forced to pay Brindell, as head of the Building Trades council, eight bribes, aggregating $12,800, that they might continue their legitimate occupations in the building line.

Other testimony to the effect that Brindell created a graft scale price to be paid on the basis of $1,000 per floor per building, demanding, for example, $5,000 to permit men of his unions to complete a five-story building.

That this graft money was either arranged for or paid in out-of-the-way rooms in Central park, the subway or in automobiles, and that in one instance $5,000 in bills of high denomination was handed in a subway kiosk to a "big, tall, dark man with a mustache" the bribe giver had never seen before.

Arthur Nelson, who at the previous hearing swore he did not know why Brindell had "pushed him" into a contract job with a rival house wrecker, begged permission to take the stand and admit he lied. In purging himself of contempt he badly involved Brindell.

From various witnesses it developed that Brindell's henchmen and con-fidants were fully as greedy in the matter of obtaining easy money for their boss as their boss was to get it himself, and instructed hesitant contractors to "come across or watch their steps."

Hanlein himself, when driven hard by Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel to the committee, admitted that the missing signed agreement between the members of the "charmed circle" was the most remarkable document ever drawn.

That this instrument, now known to have been destroyed the day Hetrick's office was raided, gave the full limestone contract to Hanlein in such a way, he would have had the committee believe, that if he won he would take the profits, and if there was a loss his eight silent partners would be taxed pro rata for the deficit.

Hanlein further admitted he knew of the undated letter written by Hetrick to Mayor Hylan, in which he assured the Mayor that The World's efforts to bring about an investigation had failed; that The World had been misled and knew it, and offering him labor votes if the court house contract was signed. He admitted all these statements were made out of whole cloth.

Announcement was made by Mr. Un-termyer that the investigation, forced by The World, had assumed such immense proportions that it would be necessary to adjourn hearings until next Thursday, that the staff may be reorganized and enlarged.

United States Senator Wm. S. Calder, chairman of the senate reconstruction committee, conferred with Mr. Un-termyer as to joining him in the investigation, thereby enlarging the powers of the inquiry. No decision was reached.

URGED FIRM ATTITUDE TOWARD UNITED STATES

Tokio, Nov. 7.—A firm attitude toward the United States was recommended by speakers at a public meeting held last evening for discussion of the situation created by the adoption of the California legislation affecting the Japanese. An audience of about 1,000 persons heard the speakers. One of the newspapermen, who made an address, urged that "Anti-Japanese discrimination in America" be met with Anti-American discrimination in the Orient. War talk was deprecated by the speakers.

In an interview in the Hochshim-ben, Viscount Gontaro Kanako, of the privy council, expressed confidence that the negotiations at Washington would result in the settlement of the questions in issue with the United States.

REPORTER KILLED BY UNKNOWN PAIR

New York Newswriter Passing the Week-End With Relatives in Connecticut Mysteriously Slain

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 7.—Arthur V.
Donohue, a reporter on the city staff of the New York American, died in the Danbury hospital early today from a bullet wound received about midnight last night in Newton. A police alarm has been sent out for two men, one of whom fired the shot that killed Donohue.

Donohue was with his brother-in-law, Edward S. Pitzschler, of Newton, at the time of the shooting. Pitzschler said that three shots were fired at Donohue with a rifle, one of which hit him in the back. The man with the rifle and his companion then jumped into an automobile and drove away to Bridgeport. The local police were not notified until 7 o'clock this morning, seven hours after the shooting.

Donohue was 25 years old and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin K. Donohue of Brooklyn, who have a summer home in Newton. He and his father came to Newton yesterday to spend the week-end. Pitzschler told the Danbury police that while walking along the main highway they came upon an automobile standing in the middle of the road without lights. They considered the machine was dangerous to traffic and moved it several yards to the edge of the road. Two men came out of an adjoining lot, Pitzschler said, and asked why they had moved the automobile. They told the men that they considered the machine dangerous in the road without lights.

One of the men was carrying a rifle.
Pitzschler said, and swung at Donohue with the butt end of the weapon. The newspaperman dodged and walked away from the men. Then, according to Pitzschler, the man with the rifle fired three shots at Donohue, who fell with a bullet hole in the back.

SOCIALISTS HINT ELECTION FRAUDS

Defeat of Several Party Candidates Thus Resulted, New York
Followers Insist

New York, Nov. 7.—Socialists of the eighth assembly district at a meeting today to protest against alleged frauds which they claimed caused the defeat of several of the party's candidates in Tuesday's election, started a fund to meet expenses of prosecuting the fraud charges in the courts. Three of the five Socialist assemblymen out-ed from the state legislature failed of re-election and party leaders, in speeches at today's meeting, charged that they were "counted out" Tuesday.

Charles Solomon, one of the two outcast assemblymen re-elected; Myer London, the only Socialist elected to congress, and Louis Waldman, one of the former assemblymen who was defeated, spoke. Mr. Solomon pointed out that Waldman, August Shaessens and Samuel DeWitt, defeated Tuesday, were re-elected by pluralities of between 900 and 1,900 at special elections in September held to fill vacancies resulting from their expulsion last winter.

"The truth of the matter is," he asserted, "that in those districts Socialist ballots were not counted or were erased; in some cases the figures were juggled."

MUNITIONS ARE STOLEN.

London, Nov. 7.—Several hundred rounds of ammunition and a number of rifles have been stolen, supposedly by Sinn Feiners, from Orange hall in the Cordacades district of Glasgow, according to the Daily Herald. The rifle was discovered Sunday by a policeman, who found the words "commandeered for the Irish Republican army" chopped on the wall in the hall.

zense proportions that it would be necessary to adjourn hearings until next Thursday, that the staff may be reorganized and enlarged.

United States Senator Wm. S. Calder,

committee, conferred with Mr. Un-termyer as to joining him in the investigation, thereby enlarging the powers

ADMIT SLAYING BOY MESSENGER

Body Was Buried in Wooded Tract and $40,000 Carried by Boy Secreted in Cemetery

TWO MEN CONFESS

"Job" Was Carefully Planned, but Clumsily Carried Out, Detectives Working on Case Say

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7.—Frank J.
James and Raymond W. Shuck, both of Camden, confessed today, according to the police, that they killed David S. Paul, the Camden bank messenger, robbed him of $19,920 in cash and buried the body in the Jersey pines near Tabernacle. The money was buried in Evergreen cemetery in Camden and most of it was recovered, the officials stated tonight.

The alleged confessions were given in signed statements at the Burlington county jail, where both men are prisoners. Although neither man was aware that the other had confessed, the officials stated their stories were almost identical on important points.
Details of the confession were not made public, but Ellis Parker, the Burlington county detective, said that two men had carefully planned, "but clumsily carried out the job." Robbery was the motive, he asserted, and no one but James and Shuck were implicated. The killing, Parker declared, was one of the most brutal in the history of Camden county.

Paul was slain in Camden, according to Shuck's confession, which was given out by Parker on November 5.
The detectives did not say who did the actual killing.

The messenger, who was taking about $40,000 in cash and $50,000 in checks and securities from the Broadway Trust company of Camden to Philadelphia, was picked up by James, the confessions reveal, according to Parker, at Second and Arch streets and offered a ride to the ferries. A block further on Shuck got in the automobile, which had the back curtains down. Near the ferry, where there was considerable noise, Paul was struck over the head with a half spring used for changing tires. This rendered him unconscious, Parker said.
Shuck declared in his story, but did not kill. He was carried several blocks before there was an opportunity to finish the job. Paul was then beaten over the head until his skull was crushed.

Shuck and James then drove to Tabernacle, according to alleged confessions and threw the body into a small stream of water on the outskirts of the town.

They then returned to Camden and buried most of the money in the Evergreen cemetery. Paul's body was left in the water until October 14, when the two men made another trip to the pine belt and buried it in a shallow grave, where it was found October 16 by hunters.

WRANGLER EXPLAINS RETREAT.

Sebastopol, Crimea, Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press).—General Wrangel's official communique, issued today explains the difficulties of his recent retreat to the Crimea due to the sudden and unprecedented freezing of the Dnieper on the night of October 23-24, permitting the Bul-denny cavalry and infantry to cross the river on the ice, thus exerting unexpected pressure on his slowly retreating forces, failing back from Nikopol region, the principal part of which were Don Cossacks.

SWEETHEART ADMITS SLAYING

Murderer of 18-Year-Old St. Louis Typist Had Planned His Own Suicide, He Tells Police.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.—Edna Ellis, the 18-year-old typist, whose body was found with the throat slashed in a vacant lot near her home Friday morning, was killed by Albert Ellis, 21, a rejected suitor, according to a signed confession Ellis made to the police today.

According to Ellis' alleged confession, he intended to commit suicide, but the blade of the razor he used broke as he slashed the throat of his victim the third time.

Ellis, who is an electrician, only admitted the killing after several hours' grilling, according to the police.

HARDING IS AWAY ON VACATION TRIP

President-Elect Endorses Girl Scout Movement in Letter Made Public by Its National Director

On Board President-Elect Harding's Special Train, Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press).—Travelling southward through Eastern Texas to begin his vacation tomorrow at Point Isa-bella, President-Elect Harding, was welcomed to the Lone Star state today by many applauding crowds who gathered eagerly about his train to shake hands and congratulate him on his election. At several of the large places he responded to demands for a speech and voiced briefly his doctrine of a reunited nation in which sectarianism and class should be forbidden.

He assured every crowd that his administration would be guided by the good of all the people rather than by partisanship and also included in each speech a plea for sabbath observance and for the awakening of religious reverence in America.

Endorses Girl Scout Movement.

New York, Nov. 7.—President-Elect Harding, in a letter to Mrs. James Doctor Ripplin, national director of the Girl Scouts, made public today, gave his endorsement to the Girl Scout movement, saying the "triple aim of the Girl Scout movement—homemaking, health getting and citizenship —is an ideal of womanhood to which I am delighted to give my entire approval and support."

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 7.—All preparations at Point Isabella for a restful stay here for President-Elect Harding and party, who will arrive here Monday, have been completed according to R. B. Creager, one of the hosts, on his return tonight from the coast.

An advance guard of secret service operatives has gone over the ground between here and the point and found conditions satisfactory for the president-elect's sojourn.

At Texas Capital.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 7.—President-Elect Harding paused at the Texas capital tonight for a few minutes, during which he made a brief talk from the rear platform of his train.

No efforts toward a formal welcome were made, although a number of state officials were in the crowd which jammed the streets for more than two blocks.

ANNUAL TAX BUDGET THREE YEARS MORE

That Is, If Congress Adopts Recommendations Drafted by Treasury Officials, It Is Predicted

Washington, Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press).—The nation will face a continuation of the annual tax bill of $4,999,000,000 for a period of at least three years, if congress adopts recommendations drafted by treasury officials, and which it is understood tonight had been laid before Secretary Houston for approval.

Mr. Houston, it was stated, probably will include such recommendations in the form of an analysis of the government's financial conditions in the forthcoming annual report to congress.

The analysis will show, and accompanying recommendations will suggest, it was said, that a three year program for tax revisions is required in order to make the maturing government obligations and cover current federal expenses.

Uncle Walt's Story

Walt Mason

VEEXATION OF SPIRIT

"WHEN I was in business," said the retired merchant, "I never had time to read much, and I used to look forward to the glad day when I could revel in literature. I felt sure I'd be entirely happy. I used to get down the titles of books I intended to read, and when I retired from business I had a list as long as the Russian battle line."

"And now that I can read all I want to, I don't get any enjoyment out of books. They bore me the worst way. I get sleepy as soon as I begin to read, and my wife comes and tells me my snoring is disturbing the neighbors."

"It's that way with everything we look forward to," observed the hotel-keeper, sadly. "Men always will be, but is never blest, as some half-baked poet remarked. Young Gooseworthy was in here last evening, bubbling over with happiness. There wasn't anybody around, so he took me into his confidence. He's going to marry Gwendolyn Jimalone, next month, and he's perfectly satisfied that his married life will be one long stretch of sunshine. He seems to have the idea that he's going to do something original when he gets married, but the idea isn't new. Men have been getting married ever since Christopher discovered Columbus, Ohio, and every doggone man Jack of them had the idea that everlasting bliss was going to be inaugurated on the wedding day."

"I listened to Gooseworthy for three hours, and hadn't the heart to say anything that would dampen his enthusiasm. His twittering recalled the long vanished days when I was getting ready to be married. I felt about it then just as he does now. I thought the person opened the gates of paradise when he joined two loving hearts. My wife lived up to all the plans and specifications, and was one of the best women in the United States, but I hadn't been married three months before I had a sneaking conviction that the man who gets married is a chump."

"A good many optimists say that a married man doesn't need any more money than a single one. If he marries the right sort of woman, but they might as well go to the blackboard and demonstrate that two and two make two. Instead of four, I fell for that cheerful theory when I was married. I was earning enough to keep myself comfortable, and never had any financial worries. I could have been buried for less money than it took to be married, and the expenses from that time forward were double what they used to be, although my wife was so economical she used to make waists and such things for herself out of my superannuated shirts."

"Oh, doggone it, there isn't any unadulterated happiness in matrimony. I wonder that young fellows like Goose-

Has "Kissing Bug" Husband Arrested

New York.—Magistrate James T. O'Neill, in Adams street police court, Brooklyn, committed Edward A. Stoddard, 20, veteran of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth infantry, to the observation ward at Kings county hospital because his wife complained he kissed her too much.

"Your honor," she said to Magistrate O'Neill, "he was kissing me with kisses and love. He kissed me on the street, in the church, at home. I counted 300 kisses last Monday, and the good Lord only knows how many on Sunday."

"He kissed me until I felt I was dying from his kisses, and then he wanted me to smile," Mrs. Stoddard said her husband was gassed and wounded in France and she feared his mind was affected. They have been married ten years and have a daughter 8 years old.

worthy don't look around them, and contemplate the dejected appearance of the majority of husbands. But even if they did, it wouldn't do them any good, I suppose, for they are full of pipe dreams, and they think the girls they are going to marry are different from all other girls, and that they will prove exceptions to the general rule.

"I had a wise old uncle in those halcyon days, and about a week before the wedding day, he backed me into a corner and handed me a dust-proof package of wisdom. He tried to lead me into taking a sensible view of the future. He talked about the cares and responsibilities that would be mine after the wedding, and wanted to know if I felt equal to them. He tried to show me that I wasn't going to marry an angel, but a human being like myself, with a human being's faults and frailties."

"I let him get that far, and then I told him that his gray hairs alone saved him from having his head remodeled, and said I never wanted him to darken my door, and he never did. I had to darken it myself, with wail and woe. But many a time afterward, I recalled his wise words and wept over his grave."

Wife Lives in Jail, He Moved

Lexington, Ky.—Because his wife is living at the jail and because his father-in-law is custodian, Rodney Haggard, lawyer and wealthy business man, indicted for the murder of Ben Good, young clubman, has been moved from the Clark county jail at Winchester to the Fayette county jail here.

Haggard's wife is suing for divorce and $20,000 alimony, alleging that her husband injured her good name in the killing of Good and that her conduct with Good was no occasion for the tragedy. Her father is jailer and she went home to him after the shooting.

Nut Waiver Wanted

An old lady, after waiting in a confectionery store for about ten minutes, grew grossly impatient at the lack of service. Finally she rapped sharply on the counter.

"Here, young lady," she called, "who waits on the nuts?"—Everybody's Magazine.

The Consequence

"At the anti-dog meeting nobody nuzzled the speakers."

"That was the reason, then, there were so many biting remarks."

PARADISE FOR HOBOS

Few Bath Tubs Among People of the Balkans.

They Know Nothing About the Carriers of Disease and Have Little Faith in Medical Science.

Sofia, Bulgaria.—Disease in the Balkans is looked upon by the people as a result of fate. The peasantry has been educated in superstitions rather than to the laws of sanitation. They are opposed to the killing of mosquitoes, rats, flies and vermin, believing that they are a part of life. They know nothing about the carriers of disease.

The importance of protecting their food supplies from winged insects has not been impressed upon them. Little or no attempt is made to drain mosquito pools or marshes, so that the Balkan states claim the distinction of having some of the worst malarial sections on earth.

The peasant has little faith in medical science. "How can a bug give us typhus?" they ask. "Every living thing, harbors insects. Why not man? If the good God sends us disease and misfortune, we believe that He knows best."

In most districts in the Balkans the houses of the rural population are small and poorly constructed. Many of them are built of mud and straw and have no provision for sanitation or ventilation. The only air admitted to the homes is obtained through accidental imperfections in construction. A few of the houses have two stories, the lower floors being occupied by the horses and cattle, the upper by the family. In such houses as these families live crowded together under the most unhygienic conditions.

Years pass without a doctor entering the huts. Disease goes untreated. In the country districts dentistry is virtually unknown.

Bath tubs are rare in the Balkans, even in the larger cities. The people in that part of Europe rarely wash. "You must be very unclean people in the United States," said a well-to-do storekeeper of Sofia to an American, "if you find it necessary to bathe every day!"

Cut-Rate Operation

Billy lived next door to us. One day while he was playing with some other boys I noticed that he had his hair cut very short. He saw that I watched him and he ran over to me and said: "Oh, Alice, I got baldheaded yesterday on a sale for 20 cents."—Chicago Tribune.

Average Length of Human Life

The average duration of human life is about thirty-three years. Statistics show that one-fourth of the people of the earth die before the age of six years, one-half before they reach their sixteenth birthday, and only one person of each hundred born lives to be sixty-five.

The Same Bunch

At a recital in one of the churches little Joe played a piece and carried a bouquet to one of the little girls who played. Later another bouquet was sent to one of the players and Joe piped out, "Why, that's the same bunch of flowers that I took up."

The Silver Rule of Life

"Speak no evil of any man, only good," would if practiced by all men all the time, work a marvelous revolution in social relations, one most needed to create mutual confidence, now very much needed.

The one definite event of the week was the announcement made by the Southern Pacific directors of the company's purpose to separate its oil lands from the main system by means not yet determined, but which plainly foreshadow substantial beneficial interest to share holders.

This action contributed to the strength of other transportation, some of which are believed to possess valuable hidden assets, several of the western and southern rails of secondary importance were bought in the belief that strategic positions point to mergers or traffic agreements.

Trade conditions and the money market offered little comfort to any but the short account, the industrial situation indicating steady retrogression in all lines of manufacture and commerce, with no visible diminution of the strain on credits, particularly at western and southern points.

ELECTION FAILED TO ALTER MARKET

Quadrennial Political Event Effect—No Pronounced Change From Prevalent Irregular Conditions

New York, Nov. 7.—The Presidential election was unique in the history of the local financial markets in the sense that it was neither preceded nor followed by an pronounced change from long prevailing irregular conditions.

Railroad shares were unusually active and variably higher, while industrials, shippings and numerous specialties recorded further declines. These divergent movements, it was generally conceded, however, bore not the remotest relations to the political situation.

The one definite event of the week was the announcement made by the Southern Pacific directors of the company's purpose to separate its oil lands from the main system by means not yet determined, but which plainly foreshadow substantial beneficial interest to share holders.

"I gave Don Sung to 24 utility Bantams and the egg yield increased from 20 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly."—C. C. White, Mr. Cherry Hill Farm, Fitchville, Ind.

Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. He wrote the above letter in December, after this hen had shown a gain of 21 eggs a day from 34 hens. We will make you the same offer we made him. Here it is: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find good results, besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given to the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her more contented and active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

MRS. MARY E. FERN

Well Known Worcester Woman Passes Away Suddenly in Albany.

Worcester, Nov. 7.—Word was received here this afternoon of the death of Mrs. Mary E. Fern, which took place at the home of Mrs. Diantha Lippincott in Albany this morning. Mrs. Fern left Worcester about two weeks ago to spend the winter with her daughter and was believed to be in usual good health of a woman of 60 years. According to the report received here, Mrs. Fern had been out on the street Saturday, but was taken with a sudden heart attack that night and died a few hours later. The body probably will arrive here tomorrow and funeral services will be held at the home of her brother, Thomas W. Ferguson, in his village, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. D. Jones, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, will officiate and burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Fern, who was Mary E. Ferguson, was born in East Springfield, a March 1, 1847, the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Daly) Ferguson. When about 29 years of age, she was married to William Lippincott of Worcester and they made their home in Worcester, which with the exception of a few years spent in Springfield and Decatur had always been her home town.

Mrs. Fern's only near surviving relative is her brother, T. W. Ferguson, whose husband having died 25 years ago, he was a woman well thought of in the community.

This is another link in the great chain of evidence to prove to overworked mothers that Vinol contains the very elements needed to build them up and make them strong.

FORTUNES IN WOODLOTS

But the Owners Must Know How to Get Them Out.

How to get money out of the woodpile is a problem which the New York State college of Forestry at Syracuse is trying to help the farmer solve. There's money in the farmer's woodpile, these days when coal prices are mounting higher and higher. The college has already advised the farmers of the state to cut a supply of fuel wood between now and snow fall, not only for his own use but to help build up an emergency fuel reserve for nearby towns and villages.

How to prepare the wood for the market is an important question. Dry hardwood has an excellent fuel value—a cord of the best hard wood has as much heating value as a ton of coal. Green wood burns slowly and expends much more energy evaporating the moisture it contains.

Open piling, however, makes fairly well seasoned wood, and three months of open piling will do the trick. Open piling preferably is piled in log cabin style, crossing each layer of wood as the pile is built up. The air then circulates readily, and the wood dries rapidly.

The time to cut the wood is now, say the college foresters, for it can be felled and piled in the woods now, when the harvest is over, and the farmer has about as much leisure as ever comes to his lot.

Three rules should be observed: cut out the "weed trees," those that are poor for timber; save the straight, thrifty trees for a better price for lumber; leave good trees near the roads to improve the appearance of your farm.

Because Her Mother Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I could not write all my thanks for your blessed medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in a very bad condition and had lost two babies. One of my good friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after I had taken eight or ten bottles I felt like a different woman. I kept on taking it until my baby girl was born last month and we have had her christened Lydia Elizabeth. I wish you to publish my letter to benefit other women who are suffering as I was."—Mrs. KATHERINE KUZBACKER, 1086 Manhattan Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should not lose hope until they have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough for women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

HANDLING THE STATE FUNDS.

There will be regret on the part of many citizens who know him personally at the fact that by order of Justice Kernochan of the supreme court, Comptroller Travis was held for the grand jury in connection with transactions growing out of bond purchases for the State sinking fund. There has been general respect for the comptroller and confidence in his administration, and it would be unfortunate should he leave office under a cloud.

The specific transaction for which Mr. Travis is held is the purchase through Jackson, a bond broker, of New York city bonds aggregating over two million dollars, said bonds being purchased as an investment for the state. The bonds had been bought at intervals by Jackson on order from the comptroller with the understanding that they would be taken at the proper time for the sinking fund. Between the time when the order was given and that when the sale was consummated the price of the bonds had fallen seven and one-half per cent, but the purchase was consummated at the higher figure, the comptroller holding that he was under "moral obligation" to do so. On this, and the further as yet unverified information that the comptroller possibly received some part of the Jordan commission, he is held for the grand jury.

Whether there is justice in the charge, the grand jury and afterwards perhaps the court and trial jury will determine but it is worth while to note that the whole sinking fund system is responsible for a primarily bad condition. Under the constitution as it now is, each vast bond issue of the state is payable all at once at a fixed time, and in order that there may be money to meet them, a definite per cent of the sum is collected yearly and paid into the sinking fund, which finally aggregates many millions. The alternate plan, and the one which the electors of the state voted a week ago, is to have a certain part of the bonds fall due each year, thus by this amount diminishing the interest charge of the state. Had such a course been permissible under the present fundamental law, there would have been no necessity for these large purchases, and incidentally there would have been no cause for investigation.

In the county of Otsego the "noes" were in the majority at the election last Tuesday. This was no doubt due to a misunderstanding of conditions. Had they been more fully understood, the vote would probably have been in favor of it. As yet the result in the state has not been determined.

A PROPER DECISION.

The decision of Senator Harding to decline the invitation of the President and Secretary Daniels to use one of the government dreadnoughts on the occasion of his prospective visit to the Canal zone is unquestionably a wise one. There was enough said, perhaps too much, about the use of the George Washington as means of conveyance of his trips to and from Europe in connection with the treaty of peace, and for one not yet president to use a great government ship on a mere sight-seeing trip, no matter how much incidentally it may have to do with future policies, would fail to meet with approval on the part of many whose votes helped in the election.

The offer of the ship, as of the Mar- flower, was creditable and courteous, the equally courteous decision on the part of Senator Harding not to accept the offer was also creditable; and it indicates a commendable good judgment on his part.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN.

Great Interest Manifested by Everybody in Sale for 1920.

It would appear from present indications that everybody this year will from this time to Christmas day the stamp of health. The National Tuberculosis association, which has practically completed the work of distribution, announces that the seals printed and distributed for the United States would reach half way round the world. Nine hundred million seals will be sent out to the 1,000 local associations in the country and to New York state alone there have been allotted 35 million seals which in a few weeks will be in the hands of the seven districts of the state, one at Albany being on the 15th and in Binghamton on the 17th.

The seals for the city of Oneonta will be sent out in ample time for use on all holiday gifts and letters, and it is hoped that general use of them will be made.

William Lord of Hancock was the first hunter to shoot a buck deer on Monday morning, November 8. Many hunters were out early, but no game was reported.

OTSEGO COUNTY FOR BONUS

Soldier Money Proposition Carried by 1,625; Large Majority in City.

Otsego, in common with practically every other county in the state, approved the soldier bonus at the general election last Tuesday, with a majority of over 1,600 votes. The vote in the state as a whole was overwhelmingly in favor of the bonus and showed that the people appreciate the sacrifices our young men underwent in the country's time of need. The Otsego county vote, which was finally tabulated on Saturday, was as follows: For the bonus, 1,625; against, 6,350; or a majority in favor of 1,625. In Oneonta city, the vote was, For, 2,350; against, 977; a majority of 1,411.

The bonus will benefit approximately 100,000 men and women from New York state who served in the World war. Service men to and including the rank of captain in the army and Marine corps, and lieutenants, senior grade, in the navy, are entitled to $19 a month for each month of service, the total not to exceed $250. Privates, non-coms and officers of or below the grades mentioned, all fare alike.

The proposition, which provides for a bond issue of not more than $45,000,000, was carried in New York city by a vote of about 2 1/2 to 1, while upstate counties did equally well, Albany voting 45,539 for and 5,579 against.

Broome county gave 12,497 for and 4,136 against. Buffalo gave a majority of about 40,000. So it appears that sentiment throughout the state generally is overwhelmingly in favor of remunerating the former soldiers for their war work. Members of the local Legion post were especially gratified to learn that the bonus had carried the state, as the Legion has been an active supporter of the proposition.

The amendment relative to debts contracted by the state was defeated in Otsego county, the vote standing: For, 5,549; against, 6,475.

Completed tabulations of the county returns show that there are 82 ballots cast for the Socialist ticket and 82 for the new Farmer-Labor.

NEW CHURCH WINDOWS.

Organizations and Individuals of the Lutheran Church are the Donors.

Work on installing the six new stained glass windows in the Lutheran church has just been completed and the windows were viewed by the congregation for the first time last Sunday. The windows, which were purchased of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, are beautiful in design and elicited many favorable comments from the church people. They were donated to the church by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Grant, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Blanken Jr., the family of the late Charles W. Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Whitthof, the Sunday school of 1920 and the Luther league of 1920. A reredos, altar cross and missal stand have been provided for the altar by the Sunday school, and an appropriate altar railing, with kneeling cushions, has been donated by the family of Joseph Lawson. In addition to these fine improvements, the electric lighting system purchased of C. C. Miller is now in operation and provides much better illumination for the evening services. During the past summer, the men's brotherhood of the church has improved the exterior of the property by laying a new cement walk and grading the lawn in front of the church.

These improvements, totalling about $1,500, have been provided wholly by individuals and organizations of the church and add materially to the beauty and value of the property. The church society itself is in excellent condition, reports at the last congregational meeting showing all church organizations to be in a sound financial condition, and during the year 27 names had been added to the church roll.

Rev. P. M. Luther, the pastor, recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the general convention of the United Lutheran church in America as a delegate from the synod of New York.

Was Born in Oneonta.

Probably few of the members of the audience which on Friday night witnessed with pleasure the delightful presentation of "Always You," knew that the male star of the production, Russell Mack, is a native of Oneonta. Mr. Mack—this is his stage name—was born in 1891 in an upper corner room in the Westcott block, his father, Fred C. Mahoney, being then a resident of the city and employed with the McCammon Piano company. Later the family moved to Providence, R. I., of which city it is still resident. Mr. Mack, after a brief try-out as clerk in a leading financial house of Providence, essayed the dramatic stage, to which he took as a duck to water.

Though his stay in Oneonta was brief, Mr. Mack took time to look over the town and to renew to a limited extent at least his old associations.

Indoor Baseball Monday Night.

The first indoor baseball game of the season will be played at the armory next Monday evening between Company G and the D. & H. shop team, and an invitation is extended to all fans interested to turn out. No admission will be charged.

The Company G team has been drilling for a month now and plans to compete with teams in a number of nearby towns during the winter, having already made arrangements to play the Wagon military contingent as soon as their team is organized. For the past few years there has been little local interest in indoor baseball but Company G has decided to organize a squad again even if only for its own entertainment. Monday's game will be called at 8 p. m.

ARE COMMON COLDS CATCHING

Commissioner Blagg of State Health Department Says They Are—Much So as Influenza.

The general impression that a common "cold in the head" is an unavoidable though harmless condition which can be safely ignored by the sufferer as far as care and treatment are concerned, is somewhat upset by a recent statement issued by the State Department of Health. In the opinion of public health officials, common colds are as infectious as influenza and are not infrequently the starting point for pneumonia. They can be guarded against by avoiding excessive fatigue, drafts, dampness, sudden chilling and other conditions which lower bodily resistance, thus preventing the organisms causing colds and other respiratory diseases from gaining the upper hand in the throat and nose. Still more important is the instruction to avoid putting fingers in the mouth or other articles, such as pencils or drinking cups which may have been wet with the saliva of others. Unprotected coughing and sneezing are also emphasized as methods by which the infective material is spread from person to person. Children should not associate with or be fondled by those having colds.

Bodily resistance to colds and other diseases can best be built up by taking pains to live so as to have plenty of fresh air, day and night, the proper kind and amount of exercise, good food, but not in excess, and a sufficient amount of rest.

Once a cold is contracted the best conditions for rapid recovery are complete rest and rapid elimination of the bacterial poisons by the use of laxatives. Prompt local medication under a physician's direction may shorten the duration of the disease, diminish the discomfort, and incidentally lessen the period during which the sufferer is capable of carrying the infection to others.

CITY COURT BUSY PLACE.

Five Persons, Three of Them Women, Charged With Stealing D. & H. Coal.

Five persons, three of them Polish women, were brought into city court Friday morning by D. & H. Detectives Stapleton and Fox, on a charge of petty larceny. The detectives found them early that morning carrying coal away from the company's coal dump in the yards, and immediately placed them under arrest. All were charged before Acting Judge Hathaway, and they were disposed of as follows:

Anna Donahike, 10 1/2 Baker street, fined $2; Mary Schmoka, 10 Baker street, fined $10; Mary Cox, West Ann street, fined $5; Ray Roselle, 41 River street, fined $3; Tim Mahaney, 14 Ann street, suspended. The Schmoka woman had been in court on two previous occasions for stealing D. & H. coal and her penalty was consequently made more severe. Mahaney escaped without being fined owing to his advanced years, he being 67 years of age. The detectives believe that these persons have been keeping their kitchen ranges going for some time with stolen coal, as their homes are adjacent to the tracks and when they run short all they need to do is to step out the back door and help themselves.

Three more boys were brought into court Friday morning on a charge of juvenile delinquency. All of them are residents of the Church street section and are said to have caused neighbors no end of trouble by throwing stones, breaking window panes, and doing other damage. Their case was adjourned until today.

Charged with Non-Support.

Fred L. Buck of this city, who was arrested Friday on a warrant issued by City Judge Huntington charging him with disorderly conduct and who was released over night on $100 bail, appeared in police court Saturday morning and was given a hearing before Acting Judge Hathaway. After the arguments of the contending attorneys in the case had ceased, Judge Hathaway ordered Buck to pay his wife $20 a week of his wages for the rest of this year and $20 weekly from January 1 until April 30, 1921. After agreeing to do this, Buck was released.

Buck was arrested on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Lulu Austin Buck, who said he had failed to properly care for her and their infant child.

Runaway Mother Caught Here.

Frances Valada, a little 15-year-old Italian girl-wife of Carbondale, Pa., got only as far as Oneonta in her effort to get away from the cares of home Saturday and was taken into custody that afternoon by Officer Walling. The local police were notified earlier in the day that the Carbondale authorities had a warrant for her arrest on an abandonment charge and were told that the girl probably was in Oneonta. It was only a short time before the girl was found and she was detained at the women's ward in the Municipal building over night. Yesterday, Officer T. F. Farrell arrived from Carbondale and returned with the girl, whom he said had abandoned her husband and infant child.

Hunting in the Catskills.

E. Veimore Campbell and Ben Flanagan of this city returned yesterday from a week's outing in the Catskills, with Oliveras as their headquarters. Although they sighted some desirable game, none of it came within their sights of their rifles.

W. S. Flanagan and Jay S. Lawson left yesterday with their game-getting apparatus for the same section of the woods and hope to have better luck than the other hunters.

The Only Woman Producer of Motion Pictures in The United States.

CATHARINE CURTIS

THE fact that "The Sky Pilot," a big motion-picture adapted from Ralph Connor's novel of the same name is rapidly nearing completion, calls the public attention to the growing success of Catharine Curtis, who as president of the Catharine Curtis Corporation of Los Angeles and New York, is the only woman producer of motion-pictures in the United States, if not in the world. Firmly believing that feminine influence in motion-pictures might be more potently felt behind the screen rather than in front of the camera, Miss Curtis has succeeded in putting in to execution her plans for the making of pictures informed with high ideals, marked with sincerity of purpose, distinguished for beauty of theme and endowed with literary qualities that shall invest them with universal appeal. Her selection of "The Sky Pilot" was made only in the face of keen competition. She chose this novel because Ralph Connor (The Rev. Major Chas. W. Gordon) has succeeded

LOCAL MENTION.

—The Lane Electric shop is making extensive improvements to its new store in the location at 246 Main street formerly occupied by Smith & VanCleft, and hopes to be able to move its stock thereto by the last of this week.

—The public market on Market street on Saturday was largely attended. To a larger extent than heretofore, there were offered pork, beef, lamb and chickens, while there was abundance of butter, and garden vegetables and a limited supply of eggs. The next market day will be on Tuesday.

—Remember the official government war pictures at the Oneonta theatre today and tomorrow. In addition to the sale at the box office, tickets are in the hands of members of the local legion and as the legion is given a percentage of all the tickets it sells, citizens are invited to make their purchases of the former service men.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT ON.

Skinner's Accountants to Meet Graves' Americans at "Y" Tonight.

The winter's bowling tournament at the Y. M. C. A. opens at the alleys this evening with prospects unusually bright for a successful season, as about 50 men will participate. Skinner's Accountants and Graves' Americans will be the opening contenders and each side is eager to draw first blood, so no doubt there will be some fast rolling. Captain Skinner has been priming his D. & H. clerks for the battle, but Miles Graves says they will have to go some to trim his warriors.

There are ten five-men teams in the tournament this year, so there should be some keen rivalry. Interest is especially high over the fact that the Oneonta "Y" will have a team in the state tournament this winter, selected from the best local bowlers. Then, too, there will be a banquet at the close of the tournament now starting, and all the boys will want to come in on this. Owing to the large number of entries in the 1920-21 tournament, there will be tournament bowling every night except Saturday. All in all, it looks as if the season would be a hummer with the "Y" bowlers this winter.

There was a large congregation present to hear Miss Ulrich, who was an active worker in the Chapin church during her residence in Oneonta, and her address contained a well-expressed plea for religious work in our everyday lives.

Motor Cars in Collision.

The Overland touring car driven by S. E. Dunham of 52 Spruce street and the Scripps-Booth roadster of A. M. Dart of 30 Linden avenue came into collision on the state road near Emmons early last evening, but neither was damaged to any considerable extent. JAZZING BELOW EQUATOR

HARRY HOWARD RETURNS TO ONEONTA FROM SOUTH AMERICAN TRIP.

Was Member of "Six Original Jazz Kings," First Band of Its Type to Tour South America—Expects Soon to Rejoin Organization.

After spending more than a month in the equatorial regions of South America, introducing jazz to the natives, Harry Howard returned to Oneonta yesterday and will spend a few days renewing old acquaintances. Howard is well known to theatre-goers in Oneonta and vicinity, having appeared on frequent occasions in vaudeville sketches. This fall, however, he thought he wanted to see a little something of the world, so with some pals in the vaudeville field, he organized a jazz band composed principally of former members of the 1529 Sherman Lake band.

When the band left New York on September 15 for South America, it was composed of Mr. Howard as drummer, Fred Conn, violinist; Gus Palmer, trombone; Jerry Christian, clarinet; Joseph Augustina, cornet, and Al. Kober, piano. Their ship docked at Rio de Janeiro, so they decided first of all to see what impression they would make on this large city in South America. Before the band had got well under way in one of the big hotels that night, however, there was no doubt as to how the South Americans liked it. The hotel was located at the junction of about five streets and people coming from all directions stopped in their tracks when they heard the weird jazzing of the trombone. The crowd got so enormous that it completely blocked traffic in front of the hotel and a squad of policemen came on the run to open up the roadway again.

After remaining in Rio for a week or so, the band boys, who adopted the name of "The Original Six Jazz Kings," started a tour of the country, visiting Buenos Aires, Montevideo and numerous other cities of that section. In every place, Mr. Howard said, the band was greeted with enthusiasm, it being the first of its kind to appear in South America. Completing their tour of the lower continent, the "jazz kings" departed for home on the steamship Huron and arrived in New York last Thursday. They spent a few days there discussing their future plans and then disbanded for a brief vacation. Mr. Howard coming to his home in Oneonta yesterday morning. He expects to remain here about a week and then return to the band.

While in South America, Mr. Howard said, the band was offered a five-year contract, but thought best not to accept it at that time, but it is still pending. The band has its choice of going to South America and playing for five years, of taking up an engagement in San Francisco, or of going to Phoenix, Ariz., and if they are not satisfied then, the "jazz kings" have an offer to tour France, Spain and Italy. Mr. Howard estimates that in its last journey, the band traveled all told about 12,000 miles. While going from place to place, they traveled by auto, stopping to entertain the natives at hotels and cabarets.

Although he enjoyed his trip immensely, Mr. Howard says that the U. S. looks good to him again and is a great deal better than the southern hemisphere. His many Oneonta friends are pleased to greet him again and learn with interest of his experiences below the equator.

Children's Sewing Class.

The Children's Sewing class at the Woman's club was organized Saturday afternoon with 75 members. There were several more who desired to join, and still others who hoped to do so at a later date, but the civil committee found it necessary to limit the number to 75 on account of the lack of accommodations.

The work this year will be in charge of Mrs. H. W. Stanton and Mrs. George E. Moore, with a competent and enthusiastic corps of teachers.

Attention, W. R. C.

All members of the Woman's Relief corps are requested to bring canned fruit and jellies for the Oxford home to the residence of Mrs. C. J. Westcott, 19 Elm street, Thursday, November 11, from 2 until 5 o'clock. Contributions from other friends will be gratefully received.

BARN BURNS ON LAURENSROAD FOR CHILD WELFARE QUOTA

Building on Farm of Harry Zindie Consumed with All Contents.

The barn on what is known as the Ransom Moffatt place, situated about two miles from the junction corners, on the Laurens road, was burned with practically all its contents, at about 5 o'clock last evening. The place is owned by Harry Zindie, who purchased it about 18 months ago. Mr. Zindie is a trainman on the D. & H. and was out on the road at the time, his wife and children, however, being at home.

Mrs. Zindie late in the afternoon was out in the orchard picking apples, and looking toward the barn saw smoke coming out from under the door. She at once ran to the barn to investigate, but when she reached it flames were bursting through the floor. She entered the barn, despite the flames and smoke, and was able to loosen the horses, which ran out, and to save a harness and wagon before she was forced to desert. The cattle, fortunately, were in the pasture, but all the other wagons and harnesses, the farming utensils and all the hay and grain were lost. Owing to the direction of the winds, the flames were blown away from the house, otherwise this, with its contents, would also have been burned, as the residence is only a short ways from the barn.

It is understood that Mr. Zindie had no insurance, though it is thought that the building may have been insured for the protection of Mr. Moffatt, who had sold the property on contract.

The loss is a heavy blow to the Zindies, who are left at the beginning of winter without food of any kind for the stock on the farm, and without utensils for the farm work. Many readers will recall the sad accident, which occurred a year ago when the little son of the Zindies was burned in a brush fire and later was brought to the Fox Memorial hospital for treatment. His case was a serious one, and, though he had the best of surgical attention and skin grafting was resorted to, he died after a lingering illness.

Mothers and Daughters to Banquet.

The Mothers' and Daughters' banquet under the auspices of the Mothers' club, will be held in the First Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Each member is requested to bring her own or a borrowed daughter. One of the pleasing features of the splendid program will be several violin solos by Miss Dorothea Koch. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Frank Olin, phone 271-W.

Mrs. Hewell Improving.

The condition of Mrs. A. E. Hewell, whose serious illness at the Fox Memorial hospital was noted with regret in The Star of Friday and Saturday, is to a marked degree better, and with continuance of the present improvement she will soon be out of all danger. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lyon, who arrived Saturday from Camden, N. J., will remain with her for some time.

Just received, some dandy Hubbard squash. Just your size too. Finigan's grocery, phone 523.

FOR CHILD WELFARE QUOTA

Canvass of City Will Be Made on Last Three Days of Week.

At a meeting of the Child Welfare directors for the city of Oneonta held Saturday at the Citizens' National bank, the county treasurer, Hon. Charles Smith, and Mrs. H. W. Lee, Mrs. A. E. Ford, Mrs. I. S. Dailey and Mrs. E. W. Elmore, were present. The plans of the campaign for raising the city quota of $750, toward carrying on this important work in the county, was discussed and the city was divided into five districts. For these canvassers will be appointed and the work of raising the sum above named will be undertaken on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The movement is an important one, and it makes a strong appeal to citizens generally. Some towns have already raised their quotas for the work, and it is believed that Oneonta will not be laggard, once the matter is fairly presented to her citizens. As an instance of the good which with united funds has been accomplished, it is noted that within a period of less than five months, Miss Hazel M. Foster, who is county agent for the society, gave proper attention and relief to no less than 40 cases which came under her jurisdiction.

As above noted, the canvass will be made the last three days of the present week. It is believed that the canvassers will have a cordial reception and that there will be liberal response to their appeal.

AT CARR'S

OVERCOATS THAT DEFEY THE KEEN-EDGED WINDS OF WINTER

First of all, an overcoat must keep you warm. Unless it protects you from chilly, keen-edged winds, it's hardly the overcoat you want.

You'll find here a great variety of styles, but you'll also find here that every style is built for service.

Good, honest, woolen cloth that encourages you to saunter courageously forth on the coldest days, serenely confident that you'll be warm and snug and comfortable—that's the kind of overcoat talk that appeals to sensible men.

IF YOU GET IT FROM US ITS RIGHT

We Thank You

For your faith in our "ad" of last Monday, as shown by your generous patronage of the biggest business of the year, showing that the public has confidence in our honest advertising as well as in our merchandise. People went out of their way to see our windows, which you all know are the talk of this community. Nothing ever seen like them in cities of twice the population. The comments we receive every day are worth all the energy we put in them. Of course it takes good merchandise to trim a nice window. That you will all agree. And we sure have it here. We're not afraid to take a chance, because we know the public has been deceived so much in the past three years by inferior qualities at long prices. You can buy here with the confidence that we guarantee everything and misrepresent nothing. We are bound to win because of such methods. Watch us grow.

He was a son of the late Harmon and Lovisa (Davis) Woodbeck, and is survived by one brother, Sylvester Woodbeck, and by numerous nephews and nieces. He had for many years been in the employ of Mr. Hungerford, and a member of his family.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at his late home. Rev. Dr. Frederickson of the Main Street Baptist church will officiate and interment will be in the Glenwood cemetery.

The funeral will be held at 1 p. m. today at the church in Cooperstown Junction, and burial will be beside her husband in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. Barnes was one of eight children of Jesse and Polly (Hotchkiss).

Suffered from Kidneys and Back
Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered for several years with kidney trouble. My kidneys would become congested and I had such severe pains across my back that I could scarcely get up in the morning. I also had bladder weakness. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Acidic (anti-uric acid) Tablets and they relieved me of this condition when all other medicines had failed."

Mrs. Mary Passer.

Mrs. Mary Passer, for the past nine years a resident of this city, died last evening at the home to her son-in-law and daughter, M. J. Passer and Mrs. Carmela Di Fiore, 27 Brookside. She had for the past three years been suffering from asthma, but the immediate cause of her death was pleurisy, from which she had been ill for the past two days only. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed. They will appear in The Star of Tuesday.

Mrs. Passer was born in Italy in 1864 and came in 1909 to the United States, landing in New York. Two years later she came with her husband to Oneonta, where she had since resided. Her husband died about two years ago. The children above named and four grandchildren survive her.

Card of Thanks.

NOT IF BUT WHEN

IT IS IF your home should burn down. It is only a question of WHEN you shall die. Yet you insure your house against a very remote POSSIBLE loss by fire. How far more essential it is to protect your family with insurance in The Mutual Life of New York against the consequences of an event which is inevitable.

A fire premium is a business expense. A life premium is a family investment. The former is a tax for safety, the latter is a deposit on account of a future estate.
